Rematch set for CIAA title

LUT WILLIAMS BCSP Editor

To say that Bowie State backed into Saturday's CIAA Championship Game vs. Fayetteville State would be an understatement. But first-year BSU head coach Damon Wilson doesn't see it that way.

After failing in two attempts on the field over the last two weeks to claim the CIAA East Division title - losses to Virginia Union (17-16) on Oct. 24 and Virginia State (14-12) last Saturday - Bowie State won a coin toss Sunday that settled a tie with Virginia Union and Elizabeth City State and gave them the division crown.

"We don't see look at it as backing our way in," said Wilson Tuesday. "We did what we had to do on the field to get ourselves into this position. We had two opportunities to close everybody out and we didn't get it done. We were disappointed in that but we're in a good mood. "It's an opportunity to continue our development as a ballclub. We're excited to play Fayetteville State."

BSU (6-4, 5-2) is getting a second shot at Kenny Phillips' West Division champion FSU squad (7-3, 6-1), a team that beat BSU 30-20 in Week 3 (Sept. 12) at Bowie State.

In that game, BSU outgained FSU 440 yards to 211 but saw quarterback Tyrae Reid throw five interceptions, four in the red zone. BSU running back Rodney Webb, the CIAA's leading rusher (81.9 ypg.), ran for 113 yards and all three BSU touchdowns. Reid threw for 299 yards but had the five picks.

"On paper, we beat Fayetteville but we didn't protect the football," said Wilson. "They won wear it counts most, in the win column. We'll have to play better, not make as many mistakes if we expect to win Saturday."

Wilson said he will decide this week who starts from among three quarterbacks - Reid, Emmanuel Yeager or Andre Johnson. Webb and Ramono Flowers, who rushed for 111 yards Saturday vs. VSU, are both healthy.

Phillips, making his fourth title game appearance in ten years, counters with Calvin Harris (69.3 ypg., 4th) and Richard Medlin (54.4 ypg., 8th) who are among the league's top rushers. Tyler Hosler has taken most of the snaps at quarterback over FSU's last five games since the Broncos' last loss (25-20 to Virginia State) replacing Benjamin Williams.

The teams come in pretty evenly matched. They have the two best overall defenses in the conference (BSU 217.5 ypg., FSU 259.4 ypg.) and against the run. BSU averages 28.2 points per game., FSU 31.1.

Fayetteville State moved into 10th in this week's NCAA Div. II Super Region II poll and needs a win to get as high as eighth and earn access to the playoffs. BSU is not ranked in the top ten and would have to win and jump over FSU up to eighth to earn a spot.

Elsewhere Saturday, MEAC leader South Carolina State (7-1, 5-0) still tenth in the latest FCS national poll, plays (1 p.m.) at Howard (2-6, 0-5). Second-place Florida A&M (6-2, 4-1) hosts (3 p.m.) North Carolina A&T (4-4, 3-3).

SIAC leader Tuskegee (7-2, 7-1) looks to close out its fourth straight league title at home (1 p.m.) for homecoming vs. Stillman (3-5, 2-6). Albany State (8-1, 7-1), still third in NCAA Div. II Super Region I, can wrap up a playoff berth

SWAC hoops tourney moves to Shreveport

The Farmers Insurance Southwestern Athletic Conference Women's and Men's Basketball Tournament has moved from Birmingham, Al. to Shreveport, LA, Commissioner Duer Sharp announced last week.

The 2010 Farmers Insurance SWAC Basketball Tournament will be played March 10-13 at CenturyTel Center. The women's and men's tournament finals will be televised live on ESPN.

This will be the first time the basketball tournament will be played in the Shreveport-Bossier City area. The metropolitan area has a population of more than 300,000 residents and is the second-largest tourist destination in Louisiana.

Opening in the fall of 2000, CenturyTel Center has hosted numerous world-class concerts, sporting events, and family shows. Among its amenities, the venue boasts a large center hung video scoreboard, able to show close-up action and instant replays, as well as 75 TV monitors located throughout the concourse areas. Seating capacity for the SWAC Tournament will be approximately 8,000.

"It has been a great experience working with the Commissioner and his staff to this point and I look forward to our staffs working closely over the next couple of months planning and executing one of the most successful tournaments in SWAC history," said Mike Cera, General Manager, CenturyTel Center. "Hosting the SWAC tournament gives us the opportunity to showcase the versatility of the CenturyTel Center and provides the Bossier City-Shreveport Community with another prestigious event."

UAPB in SWAC, Norfolk State in MEAC sweep Cross Country Championships

The UAPB women's team won with 25 points, ahead of defending champion Alabama State (39) with Grambling State finishing third (81).

On the men's side, UAPB won with 36 points, ahead of second-place Mississippi Valley State (57) and third-place finisher Alabama State (60), the 2008 defending champion.

Norfolk State's women's and men's cross country teams won the 2009 Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) Cross Country Championship titles Saturday morning at the University of Maryland Eastern Shore in Princess Anne, Md.
